President's Message

Greetings Clark County Dental Society!

It was great to see so many of you at the last meeting! Dr. Frank Forman, one of our Clark County pediatric dentists, shared his philosophy of treating children and his experience and insight were a pleasure to hear. For the November meeting, we originally had planned to have Dr. Jason Peacock speak, but he has moved from Clark County and accepted a position in Olympia. This month's meeting will have Tom Tursich, DDS, speaking on "conflict resolution", an incredibly pertinent subject for our small businesses. A special thanks to Drs. Kathryn Wright and Kristine Aadland for working so hard to get our speakers and sponsors lined up.

Again, I want to remind members to save two dates. The first is November 11, 2011. This is the WDS meeting, "Call to Members", in Seattle at the Red Lion Hotel by Sea-Tac airport at 2pm. I will make another announcement about this during the meeting, but it is critical that we all attend! Our goal is to pack the 750 seated auditorium and have it be standing room only. We need to show a unified, significant presence in regards to the issue of insurance reimbursement! The second date is the Dental Action Day on January 27, 2012. Clark County is always well represented, but it is a great day and our presence really makes a big impact. We know that Representative Eileen Cody is again promoting going the "dental therapist" bill. We need everyone's support on this issue! I really encourage you to make the trip up to Olympia.

It is a pleasure to serve you. I wish you all the best.

Daniel E. Wilson, DMD

Dr. Steven D. Hokett has been named as a 2012 Examiner for the American Board of Periodontology in Dallas, Texas. The American Board of Periodontology was organized by the American Academy of Periodontology in 1939 to elevate the standards and advance the science and art of periodontology by encouraging its study and advancing its practice. The Board serves the public and the profession by creating and administering a certification process to identify experts in the field of periodontics. The American Board of Periodontology is one of nine specialty boards recognized by the American Dental Association. The activities of the American Board of Periodontology conform to the "Requirements for Recognition of Dental Specialties and National Certifying Boards for Dental Specialists" of the American Dental Association Council on Dental Education applicable to specialty boards in dentistry. (As adapted from <http://www.abperio.org/mission-and-activities>)

Dr. Hokett is a 1983 graduate of the University of Texas Health Science Center Dental School at San Antonio where he received a D. D. S. degree. He received a certificate in Periodontics at Fort Gordon, Georgia in conjunction with the Medical College of Georgia in 1991. He holds the U.S. Army Surgeon General's "A" Proficiency Designator and served as the Assistant Director and Director of the U.S. Army Periodontic Residency at Fort Gordon, Georgia from 1997 – 2003 whereupon he retired from active duty in the U.S. Army Dental Corps after twenty years of service. He has been a Diplomate of the American Board of Periodontology since 1994 and has authored or co-authored over twenty articles in peer-reviewed journals. Dr. Hokett earned the Masters of Clinical Research from OHSU School of Medicine in 2009. He is currently in the private practice of Periodontics at Salmon Creek Oral Surgery & Periodontics located in Vancouver, Washington and is also an Assistant Professor in the Department of Periodontology at the Oregon Health and Sciences University School of Dentistry.
